

Deidre Scherer

Woven Knowing, 2017

Torn paper construction, silk tissue, acrylic, 16 x 19 inches, framed 23 x 25 inches

Opening bid: $4,000

This work is reconstructed digital prints of my original fabric work. Two prints-on-paper are hand-torn to create warp and weft, which are then reintegrated as woven forms through the process of finger weaving. While the hands refer to the clock face, strands of golden paper reflect the clock's embellishment.

Woven Knowing expands our reflections on the opposites of tearing apart and adjoining; abstract and figurative; dividing and uniting; knowing and unknowing; material and immaterial; stasis and movement, and ultimately, the changing self-perception gained by experience and time.

Deidre Scherer Biography: Pioneering in her medium of thread-on-layered-fabric, artist Deidre Scherer has exhibited her work since 1979 in over 160 shows including solos at the Baltimore Museum of Art; the Greenville Museum of Art in Greenville, NC; the Everson Museum of Art in Syracuse, NY; the Redding Museum of Art in Redding, CA; the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion Museum in New York City; and the Maltwood Art Museum in Victoria, British Columbia.

She is featured in the documentary  Holding Our Own , which screened at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Her work appears on the cover of the renowned  When I Am An Old Woman I Shall Wear Purple  and throughout the anthology  Threads of Experience . She wrote about her art's evolution in  Deidre Scherer: Work in Fabric and Thread , C&T Publishing 1998.

Scherer received a 1994 Vermont Arts Council  Fellowship Award ; a 1999  Fine Arts Fellowship  from the Open Society Institute; the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine's  2008 Humanities Award ; and the Rhode Island School of Design's  2010 Alumni Association Award for Artistic Achievement .

Among many presentations, she has spoken at the Older Women's League, in Washington, DC; the Florida Hospice & Palliative Care Association in Orlando, FL; the New Hampshire Hospice & Palliative Care Conference in Manchester, NH; and the International Congress on Care of the Terminally Ill in Montreal, Canada. Scherer's work promotes a dialogue about aging and dying as a natural part of life within the context of community and relationship.

<http://www.dscherer.com>